

Dear Medical Assistant Employer:

Your employee is a nationally certified Registered Medical Assistant (RMA). Individuals certified by American Medical Technologist (AMT) are competent, professional and dedicated to the highest level of patient care. Why not help them keep this edge? Invest in your practice and your employee by allowing time off and paying for any expenses to attend the AMT 2020 Annual Meeting, July 13-16 in Albuquerque, NM.

More than 13 CE credits can be earned to support AMT's ongoing certification maintenance requirements. Your RMA will return from this meeting with expanded knowledge and the excitement to share what they have learned with you, your staff and your patients. Relevant workshops, scientific and leadership sessions include:

- 2002: Developing a GI Academy
- 2008: Competency-Based Education in Allied Health Education
- 2011: The Use of Social Media Outlets in Healthcare
- 2016: Medical Assisting Clinical Skills Workshop
- 2017: Laboratory Values Interpretation for the Medical Assistant
- 2018: Quality Control
- 2021: The Link Between Diabetes and Heart Disease
- 2025: Functional Neurological Disorder: What Is It and How to Help Those Who Have it
- 2030: Complex Regional Pain Syndrome/ Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy
- 2031: EKG: Technique and the Importance of the ST Segment
- 2034: Pre-Certifications and Prior Authorizations, Oh My!
- 2040: Deep Inside Medical Assisting

View the full meeting program and notice the special low early bird registration rate of $295 before May 1 on AMT's website

(<http://www.americanmedtech.org/BeInvolved/AMTAnnualMeeting.aspx>). Your employee will return inspired to make a difference in your practice!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Jeannie Hobson". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Jeannie Hobson, RMA (AMT), RPT(AMT), AHI(AMT), CMAS(AMT)
AMT President